Alliant International University has recently undergone a transition in its organizational structure and as a result, the IPMH Certificates Program is undergoing a period of transition and review, so the only classes currently scheduled for 2015-16 are the online Risk and Resilience in IPMH (Fall, 2015) and the online Biopsychosocial Factors in IPMH (Spring, 2016). The direction of the program should be clarified sometime this fall semester, but for no future classes are not guaranteed for students entering the program this fall. The two online classes are valuable in and of themselves and we welcome you to take them and appreciate your patience while we address the future of the program.

A plan is being developed for students currently registered in the IPMH Certificates Program to allow them to complete the certificates.

If you are interested in the IPMH Certificates, please contact Mike Giovanini, Director of Admissions at 626-270-3315 or mgiovanini@alliant.edu.

$400/unit; each unit
All instructors have special expertise with infants and/or preschoolers
Some instructors have special expertise in Play Therapy (Registered Play Therapist-Supervisor)
 indicates endorsed as an Infant-Family & Early Childhood Mental Health Specialist / Reflective Facilitator

Fall, 2015 COURSES:

PSY8500 / IPM8505 Risk & Resiliency in IPMH – 2 units 16 students max - Online
Instructor: Debbie Reno-Smith, LMFT August 31 X 16 weeks

Spring, 2016 COURSES:

PSY8500 / IPM8506 Biopsychosocial Factors in IPMH – 2 units16 students max - Online
Instructor: Toni Backman, PhD January 25 X 16 weeks

Summer, 2015 COURSES: (Register on AY1516 Grad schedule):

PSY8500 / IPM8507 Advanced IPMH – 2 units (Online) – requires completion for IPM8501 – Fundamentals of Infant Mental Health or IPM8502 – Fundamentals of Preschooler Mental Health

*The San Francisco Advanced Clinical Seminar: Child Parent Psychotherapy counts for both the FIMH & DC classes